Prequalification Application Evaluation Report

June 2012

PREQUALIFICATION APPLICATION EVALUATION REPORT

FOR CONTRACT FOR CONSTRUCTION WORKS, SUPPLY OF COMPLEX GOODS, SERVICES¹ OR ENGINEERING SYSTEMS

PREFACE

Procurement under projects financed by the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (the Bank), is carried out in accordance with procedures laid down in the Bank's Procurement Policies and Rules.

This Standard Prequalification Evaluation Report (SPER) has been prepared for the use by the Bank's public sector clients for the evaluation of applications for contracts for large building, civil engineering, supply and installation contracts, and major complex custom-made equipment, complex or unique services under projects financed by the Bank. The SPER reflects procedures and practices which have been developed through broad international experience, and comply with the Bank's Procurement Policies and Rules.

Complementing this document are the Bank's Procurement Guidance Notes on Prequalification of Tenderers (the Guidance Notes) and the Bank's Standard Prequalification Documents for construction works, supply of complex goods, services or engineering systems, which further explain the reasons for this procedure and its advantages, and provides general guidance to clients and their consultants. Neither the Guidance Notes nor the Standard Prequalification Documents constitute part of the prequalification application evaluation report and must not be included in the evaluation report submitted to the Bank.

Additional information on procurement for projects financed by the Bank can be obtained from:

¹ The services are any services, except consulting services, for example operation and maintenance of roads or plants, design, geotechnical surveys etc.

How to use these Documents

The evaluation forms contained in this document provide a summary and details of the evaluation of applications. In all instances the prequalification and evaluation procedures specified in the actual prequalification documents must be followed.

The forms may need to be adapted to suit specific requirements of the prequalification documents. Where necessary, the report should include attachments to explain details of the evaluation or to demonstrate specific extracts from an application. Cross-referencing should be used extensively, as well as references to pertinent clauses in the prequalification documents.

Special mention should be made of contracts that group together (package) smaller contracts (often referred to as 'lots' or 'slices'), which the applicants may apply and be prequalified for as a single package or as one or more lots. In such instances, the prequalification is to be done, taking into account the requirements for each lot and combination of lots.

The client should study this evaluation format and the Guidance Notes during the preparation of the project, in order to properly assess the managerial and administrative conditions needed for the evaluation of prequalification applications.

The following directions should be observed when using these Standard Prequalification Documents:

- The forms will require adaptation to suit the requirements of a specific prequalification/contract/project.
- The italicised notes in boxes in the Forms and Annexes are not part of the text. They contain guidance and instructions for the drafter of the report. They should not be incorporated in the report.
- Where alternative clauses or texts are shown, the drafter should select those that best suit the particular case, and should discard the alternative text that is not used or draft a new text and discard all the alternatives.
